

Abstract

Brief review of experimental evidences and theoretical models for new unexpected resonances X,Y,Z frequently treated as possible tetraquarks or molecules will be discussed.